

[INT] -> E B C#m , A F#m E (x2)

Verse:

E                    B                    C#m                    A2
The ice is thin enough for walkin',
                  F#m                    E
The rope is worn enough to climb,
                  B                    C#m                    A2
My throat is dry enough for talkin',
                  B                    F#m                    A2
The world is crumblin' but I know why,
                  B                    E
The world is crumblin' but I know why.
                  B                    C#m                    A2
The storm is wild enough for sailing,
                  B                    E
The bridge is weak enough to cross,
                  B                    C#m                    A2
This body frail enough for fighting,
                  B                    F#m                    A2
I'm home enough to know I'm lost,
                  B                    E                    A2
I'm home enough to know I'm lost

Chorus:

    E
It's just enough to be strong,
                  F#m                    C#m                    A2
In the broken places, in the broken places.
It's just enough to be strong,
                  F#m                    C#m                    A2
Should the world rely on faith tonight.

Verse:

E                    B                    C#m                    A2
The land unfit enough for planting,
                  B                    E
Barren enough to conceive.
                  B                    C#m                    A2
Poor enough to gain the treasure,
                  B                    F#m                    A2
Enough a cynic to believe,
                  B                    E                    A2
Enough a cynic to believe

Chorus:

It's just enough to be strong,
In the broken places, in the broken places
It's just enough to be strong,
Should the world rely on faith tonight.

Verse: (Picking)

Confused enough to know direction,
The sun eclipsed enough to shine.
Be still enough to finally tremble,
And see enough to know I'm blind,
And see enough to know I'm blind

Chorus:

It's just enough to be strong,
In the broken places, in the broken places
It's just enough to be strong,
Should the world rely on faith tonight,
It's just enough to be strong,
In the broken places, in the broken places,
It's just enough to be strong,
Should the world rely on faith tonight.

Bridge:

( F#m A2 E ) x5
Should the world rely on faith tonight,

Should the world rely on faith tonight,

F#m A2 E

Tonight, tonight

F#m A2 E F#m A2 E

Tonight, Tonight,

F#m A2 E

Tonight
