We’ve Come To Declare

               E                        A
Your heart was torn, forgiveness was born
                 E                       A
yet through Your pain, You call us by name B                E                    A so that we would be free, yes free indeed
            E                                    A       B
free to run with You to be all that You created us to be
A      C#m                B
In You it is true that we are free  (oh Lord we are free)

E                A           B
Oh we've come to declare the beauty of the Lord
E           B             A
declare the beauty of the Lord
E                A           B
Oh we've come to declare the beauty of the Lord
E           B             A
declare the beauty of the Lord
